OF GRAND
CHancellor

Editor of "Monitor": Warm Miscellaneous Regarding Unwise Legislation
Against Good Men

The Fraternal Monitor, published at Cincinnati, Ohio, Joseph L. Jones, the Supreme Worthy Chancellor of the Order of Canabos, in a lengthy article, recently praised the work of Grand Chancellor A. W. Lloyd, of Knight of Pythias of Missouri.

Warning

He writes the Pythians of Missouri against being too hasty in trying to retire a good and useful man as Mr. Lloyd, in the following words:

A. W. LLOYD,
Grand Chancellor K. of P. of Missouri

"Honorable A. W. Lloyd, Grand Chancellor of Missouri, has issued a circular showing $241,464.91 paid to beneficiaries from Daniel Ford. The circular contains several commendatory letters on the administration of Mr. Lloyd, which indicate that the law which would force the retirement of the great Missouri leader was unwise and should be repealed. Mr. Lloyd has been through a few storms while piloting the Pythian ship of Missouri, but that he has weathered them all and brought them to the port of success now will dawn."

—Fraternal Monitor, 12-13—

Henry Mitchell, chauffeur, 3113 Pine street, reported to the police, eighth district, that he was held up and robbed of his week's pay Monday, which was $16.00. According to Henry's statement, he was on his way to a garage for his car, which was in the shop at 3750 Olive street. And as he entered the alley, he thought of his money which was in his side pocket of his trousers, and decided he would move it to a more secure pocket, and just as he took out his roll and was counting it, a white man with a revolver in hand pointed it at his head commanding him to "Drop that roll and back up," which he did while the big man grabbed up the money and ran down a blind gangway, and made good his escape. When asked why he did not make a outcry Henry stated he was very much frightened, and did not realize that his money was really gone until it was too late. He gave the police a good description of the robber.

Rev. F. P. Berry
Does Great Work

The Rev. F. P. Berry, of 4175 W. Belle, who has for some time conducted religious services at Scullin-Gallagher steel plant, is having quite a success with his work. He has gained not only the confidence of the employees, but their employer as well. The men of all nationalities pay their respects to Rev. Berry because they say he is a shining light among them. After his sermon, it is wonderful to see the men grasp his hands, saying "how can a man do such work unless God be with him?" Rev. Berry is very much encouraged over his work among the men and says he intends to build a church that he may be able to do greater work for the Lord.

He is a believer in his race, and is always willing to help business enterprises by telling the men that they should patronize the men of our race in every line in which they are engaged.

Visitors are invited to come out at any time to see what is being done at the great industry.

a book of spirit, and that sex is the dividing line between the physical and spiritual. Sex, sickness and insanity are within the sex, and the sex was the original sin and cause of death. They are arranging the sex of the Bible, the scientific, philosophical and theological writings and people of all classes as no other books of modern times, and will probably do more to shake the theistic of the human race than any books ever written in the history of the world.
They are daily going to the great thinking of all parts of the civilized world."I would rather be the author of the Truth About the Bible, than be the President of the United States."—Dr. C. Trappe, in the foreword to the Bible, as therein contained, is so daring and his conclusions are so unanswerable that the human intellect sighs under the ideas presented. For instance, it is the world's greatest book.
Mr. Trappe's books on the Bible and his sex interpretation of the Bible will live until time shall be no more. However may perish and disappear may decay, but the ideas presented in these books will these books on the Bible will never die.

—Fred. A. Miller, Harris, N. Y.

"Mr. Trappe's works on the Bible will do more to enlighten the human race than any other book of modern times. In the world of our time, in any other of the great books, scarcely any other book, that they will do the human race
the most good, and the world, less that should be in every home and library in the civilized world."

STATE AID FOR OLD FOLKS AND ORPHANS
 Now is the time to see the Republican candidates for nomination for Representatives and Senators to the Missouri Legislature and urge upon them the necessity of appropriating money to build up and sustain a colored old folks' home and colored orphan home. These two homes in St. Louis are in a dilapidated condition and need state aid.

The Pennsylvania Legislature gives $20,000 a year to the colored home and orphanage in Philadelphia and the same amount to the colored hospital. We know from conversation with members of our Legislature that they are willing to do a similar thing for the Negro in St. Louis. Don't let the opportunity slip. The candidates for the Legislature are looking for votes, and we are looking for a simpler provision to sustain a few necessary charities. Pick out your men and see them.

The segregationists are only lying in wait, waiting for the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States on the segregation case in Louisville. If the decision is adverse to them, they are raising money now to take the decision of Judge Dyer to the same court and test it, but if that decision favors segregation they will demand the removal of the temporary injunction placed upon it by Judge Dyer. Therefore we need watch the movements of the Negro baiters. "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty."

When the storm at Chicago is over, and the sky gets bright again, you will find the invincible armies of the Republican party marching on to victory.

Among the candidates filed for nomination on the city and state Republican ticket are many real good men, and it makes it easy to make no mistake in your choice.

The nominee of the National Republican ticket will be a winner.

Let us try and save ourselves from further movements in favor of Jim Crowism, disfranchisement and segregation by voting solidly for the Republican party and holding that party to its original pledges.

THE WREASEL IN PARADE

The "wreasel" sneaked all the meaning out of the preparedness parade last Saturday. The words, "A United America," "Together We Stand," "Preparedness"—the meaning of them all was sucked out by the wreasel (prejudice).

"Eternal vigilance is the price of success." When you want a thing that is worth while apply the above motto.

The floral decorations were a square and compass erected on an easel, which stood about five feet high.

IN MEMORIAM

In remembrance of my dear sister and brother, Gertie and Augusta Green, who departed this life June 8, 1914.

Passed from earth for peaceful rest, And called by God who knows best; Hard it was to part from you, But these vacant chairs can never be filled;

Sleep, my dear sister and brother in yonder lonely grave beneath the flowers.
 Specially missed by your brother R. L. Green and family.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to the many friends for their kindness and sympathy during the illness and death of our beloved cousin and friend, Mrs. Sequenia Davis, who entered rest Thursday, May 25th, at 9:45 p. m. We especially wish to thank Rev. David Johnson for the splendid sermon. Rev. J. K. Parker for his comforting words, the pastor and choir of the First Baptist Church, Mr. Lewis and Miss Polk for the beautiful songs. Excellent Court and Mrs. Bertha Beckner and Theresa Johnson, Grand Court officers for their services, the executive board of the Antioch Baptist Woman's Convention, all other organization and friends for their beautiful floral offerings and refreshments. Mrs. A. Russell, the efficient undertaker, for his services.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks for the many favors shown our beloved son and brother, Alfred J. Wright, during his illness, especially Mrs. Madison and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dwyer, Mr. R. C. Finkler, Mr. and Mrs. Wilkerson, Mary and Grace Speed, Mrs. Bertha Hall, Mrs. Jennie Hanks, St. Paul Missionary Society and Dr. H. B. Wilkins for his comforting words at the funeral and the many other friends who contributed floral designs. God bless you all.
 His Mother and Sister.

He sleeps, but not forever!
 There will be a glorious dawn.
 And we shall come together
 In the resurrection morn.

Though we are sad since he is gone,
 Through the mist of tears, there is a light;
 Which shall grow brighter as we go on,
 Towards that land where he has come so right.

Mrs. Lottie Johnson, Mother.

BEAUTIFUL CHARACTER GONE

Mr. R. O. Humphrey, of 1016 Gove Ave., after a long illness, departed this life Thursday, June 1, at 9:45 p. m. He was born in Marshall, Michigan, February 6, 1864, and by his request the remains were interred in their family lot in Calvary cemetery, where his mother, father, sister and other dear ones were laid to rest.
 His wife, Mrs. Sarah, a daughter, little grandson, Roscoe, a sister, a niece and two nephews accompanied the remains. Mr. Humphrey was deeply respected by the will of the Master. He talked freely with Mrs. Humphrey a few hours before he died, and was completed, all arrangements. He selected the seventh and fourteenth chapters of John for her to read for him, and after she had finished he said, "You do not say anything about them now, but you will later."
 At the funeral services Rev. Brown selected for the occasion the 14th chapter of John and touched deeply on the seventh chapter. He had been with the general manager of the Wash Railroad Company for twenty-one years and they have been assisting in their efforts to make him comfortable and happy. True Blue Lodge No. 107, of St. Louis, had charge of the funeral.

IN MEMORIAM
 In loving remembrance of my beloved wife, Mrs. Rose A. Thomas, who entered into rest a half year ago today, on Dec. 10, 1913.
 Thou art gone, Oh, my loved one, Thy form I can't see;
 The sweet voice that hath spoken, I must sacrifice life.
 I look for thy coming,
 Yet look all in vain;
 For whither thou hast gone,
 I must sacrifice life again.
 But I'll try to meet thee,
 Oh, sweet and loving wife;
 Though to follow in thy path,
 I must sacrifice life.
 To And to the soul that does aspire,
 An immortality;
 Where changes never can break the tie.
 That binds my heart to thee.
 God, gently, missed by—Aunt—husband,
 John A. Thomas, relatives and friends.

JUST WHAT ARE "LUXURIES?"

Would the Luxurious Think Humanity Desires to Enjoy It? People Must Use Only Necessaries.
 What are we here for anyway? Human civilization is the life of the living if all the luxuries were suppressed. Where would society be today if all the world had for centuries followed the principle that it was wrong to get along with as little as possible?

The "warring nations of Europe are talking of reducing the necessary means to carry on the bloody conflict by 'economizing.' And there is now being dinned in the ears of those still at home the 'duty' of living on as little as possible, and above all other things, to cut out all 'luxuries.' What are 'luxuries?' Carpet? Motor? Automobile? Dairy car? Cigar? But? Books and newspapers? Pie and cake? Collars and neckties? Stuffs? These and a thousand other things that might be mentioned are 'luxuries' in the sense that man and woman could exist without one of them.

Human civilization is built on the consumption of goods, not on their owning to be produced. 'Variety is the spice of life' in what is eaten, worn and owned. The material things that add in the joy of living. Verily economic necessity is revolutionizing old formulas for the happiness of the human race. In order to progress we must cut out the luxuries. The demand for powder and shot, warships and flying machines makes it necessary that we should have more boats and more human beings. What irony to be told that it is the duty of all to forego 'luxuries' in order to be better able to kill people.

FIRE ENDS APE'S MISCHIEF

Monkey, Stealing Matches, Ignites His Room and Cage, and is Burned to Death.
 Ralph Gregor's trained monkey, Ralph, wound up a lurid career of mischief-making by one last glorious act. At the cost of his life he called out the city fire department.

Incidents in Ralph's checkered career in which he has been included his owner and was mistaken at night for a Jack the Pecker by frightened women in whose bedrooms he was supposed, and who were when he clambered to the top of a house in the neighborhood and jabbed holes into the tin roof with a butcher knife until the police were called.

Gregor had left Ralph confined in a cage when the owner went to work. During the man's absence the monkey, it is believed, managed to reach through the bars and into the pocket of a coat of his owner hanging near. Striking the matches he found there was a minor accomplishment for the intelligent simian.

Firemen managed to confine the blaze to the room, but among the things that were destroyed was a body—York (Pa.) Dispatch Philadelphia Record.

Landes Submerged. Some famous servant has declared that before another hundred years have passed the cities and towns of the world will be swathed in vast chains filled with fire from the center of the earth. The late Grant Allen prophesied something in one of his books. He pointed out to old print that many parts of the earth's surface are as thin as a match box, and that one of these spots is the Thames valley near Cookham, away in merry England. The earth there, according to the writer, speeded suddenly a gigantic fissure into the bottom millions of tons of lava gushed out and poured down the valley. When the flood was over the towns near the Thames as well as London itself, were covered with rapidly congealing lava which turned them into an immense ruin—"Pinn," Oscar Fricke, in National Geographic.

DIFFERENT KINDS OF PIPE

Day Has Long Passed Since There Was But One Style of That Article in Use.

Up to about 25 years ago hand-piped iron was used entirely for making pipe, for various reasons and had been entirely supplanted, and as the quantities needed were comparatively small there was no trouble in supplying the demand, says the Engineering Magazine. With the increasing use of pipe, however, the discovery that steel could be welded when treated properly, and the discovery of cheaper and better processes of making this material, caused it to be employed more and more, and two classes of pipe appeared on the market—from cast steel. With many manufacturers in the field different grades of these appeared, and now there are a number of such grades; in fact there is as much difference between some of the wrought-iron pipes as there is between it and the steel, and there is a corresponding disparity between the latter. At the same time, the discovery has arisen much lack of agreement regarding the length of life which iron pipe, or contrasted with that made from steel, might be expected to give.

NICKEL WILL REPLACE PAPER

Metals Substitutes, According to Editors, Will Reduce Bulk and Weight of Books.

Edison is not alarmed by the paper scare; he foresees the day when nickel will be substituted for paper in books. London, London, London. He estimates that the weight of a book of twenty-thousandth of an inch thick is cheaper, more flexible and more durable than an ordinary sheet of note paper.

The weight would not be great, either, for a nickel book, containing about 100 pages, would weigh one pound, and only be two inches thick. The Japanese are wonderful paper manufacturers, paper being put to far more use in Japan than in Europe, and they cultivate a certain number of trees solely for the use of its bark as paper manufacture.

Wood pulp is not by any means the sole paper material, as at the Paris exhibition of 1889 sixty webs, or rolls, of paper were displayed, each roll being made from a different tree. Some, however, seen the light, produced from several hundred leaves of different trees.

The city is, though, that these materials are either too costly for production or that the substances are obtainable in Europe.

Price French Writer's Work. Rene Benjamin, hailed as the new French Kipling, was born in Paris 39 years ago and has written for many newspapers and contributed to the magazine and reviews. The book which has given him a high place in literature is "Gaspard," a novel which is spoken of by the French as the new literary masterpiece of the day. It is a novel of a most interesting family, being the grandson of the engraver, Ernest Huet, who died recently; the son of Ernest Benjamin, a novelist; the son of Ernest Benjamin, who was a member of the Academie des Lettres, and the nephew of the eminent veterinarian, Count Benjamin, who was one of the founders of the Academie de Medecine. Hereafter none of his writings attracted any large share of attention.

When the Robins Are Busy. The little tree sparrow, who stays around the city and is the first to sing in the cold weather, with a layer of rain from an eighth to a quarter of an inch thick between his skin and his or her feathers, is a very hardy bird. He has no home in the harbor, will take claims and drop them from on high onto the hardest rock or clearest packed sand he can find and break their shells. Twenty times in none too many to try before he gives up entirely if it cannot be done before. Everyone knows about relapsing, or relapsing, is a tedious task to watch them making nests. And they are doing it now, early in the morning, when the eggs are fresh and the birds are busy from the night dew—Echance.

New Norwegian Industry. Norwegian fish canners, who have been endeavoring to become independent of other countries for their supply of tinplate, have been successful in their attempts to secure sufficient capital for the erection of rolling mills for their fish. The plant for their mills provide for a ready production of at least 30,000 tons; their erection will cost more than $1,000,000, and they will employ 100 men. The electric machinery to be installed will produce 1,000 horse power, but the maximum production will not be reached for three or four years.

Safety for the Aviator. War aviators can now provide themselves with safety tubes, which are a powerful artificial respirator device with a parachute and deflator. One can descend to the ground and release the parachute light, which descends near the earth. Light up a large area with his powerful flashlight, beam the light on the ground, and release the parachute light. One can try to destroy the aviator. Harold E. Sharvit, Holt of Brookline, England, is the patentee. "Western of Today," National Geographic.

STRAIN AND BAILEY COMPANY MAKES BIG HIT AT THE BOOKER WASHINGTON
THEATRE

The Strain and Bailey Stock Company, featuring Tim Moore, the comedy king, are keeping the audience in a hilarious spasm at the Booker Washington Theatre this week.

The show opens with a drama entitled "I'm a Man," which depicts a man's faithfulness to his wife. It's a vivid portrayal of domestic troubles and makes a decided impression on the audience.

An olio of specialties follows, which includes dances, songs and a chorus by the company, rendering Benton Oyster Street's "Hummer."

The final piece, "Her First Step in Sin," is really not a step at all, but a rescue from sin. A determined little Miss is saved by a series of coincidences from marrying a villainous man who already has a wife. The climaxes are emotional, affording much excitement and voracious applause.

Besides Tim Moore, the cast included his wife, Gertrude, Doc Strain, Harry Jackson, Frank King, Edna Young, Evelyn Carter and Corbie Bailey. All are good performers and fit well into the interesting program of numbers.

Next week this company will present a one act domestic comedy ("The New Butler"), an olio of up-to-date songs and dances, and a western Indian and cowboy drama entitled, "Loud Thunder's Revenge."

SYNOPSIS OF EPISODE NO. 2

"The Corsican Sisters"

In this episode "The Corsican Sisters," Mona and Mary, masquerading as Corsican girls, ensnare a blue young man of wealth who is noted for his affairs with women. Briefly, each girl makes the man think she is in danger of her life. Mona is supposed to kill Mary in a jealous rage. The man is made to appear as an accomplice. He pays handsomely to escape scandal. The three deal with the hot blood and fiery tempers of the supposed Corsican girls and the subterfuge they practice to make the man believe a real entity exists between them. This picture is a wonder from start to finish.
